Computer Associates

- Second largest software company behind Microsoft – $2.74B
- 22.2% net profit margin – best in database industry
- Primary segments are applications, system software, systems management
- Client-server is now 30% of business; remainder is mainframe
- Legent acquisition adds more systems management focus and pizzazz to CA-Unicenter
- Database products include IDMS, Datacom, and Ingres
- More open, more innovative but still selling around negative customer perceptions

So You Think Objects Are A Panacea?

- I have a bridge to sell you in Brooklyn
- You must love to hear salesmen's presentations
- Remember telling the boss about about how good CASE would be?
- Tried to hire any good C++ programmers lately?
